1. About the program

The purpose of this program

The NSW Social Cohesion Grants for Local Government encourages applications from all local councils across NSW.

Local government knows and understands their communities which helps to deliver economic, environmental, and social outcomes across a range of areas that impact social cohesion.

Analysis of social cohesion best practice highlights the significant role that local government plays in promoting and strengthening social cohesion.

Local councils are well placed to design and implement initiatives that build stronger, more resilient, and cohesive communities. Councils can embed principles of social cohesion across various areas – from strategy and planning to civic engagement, tracking and monitoring.

The NSW COVID-19 pandemic has added to factors affecting social cohesion at the local level, highlighting even further the importance of locally led responses to disruptions caused by the pandemic. For this reason, the NSW Government is administering a local government social cohesion grants program that seeks to identify social cohesion opportunities and challenges in local communities and support local councils and their community partners to deliver innovative solutions.

We are looking to understand what social cohesion opportunities and challenges exist in your communities and are inviting you to propose initiatives that respond to these problems.

The NSW Social Cohesion Grants for Local Government program aims to:

- Build resilience of local community leaders and groups
- Track and measure social cohesion within the local area
- Encourage civic engagement and participation
- Enhance community cohesion and cultural inclusion
- Enhance places and spaces that reflect diverse local character, stories and needs
- Build partnerships and networks to strengthen social cohesion within the community

Successful submissions will:

- be local government led, in partnership with one or more community organisations or local councils and
- provide innovative solutions to social cohesion opportunities and challenges.

For more detailed information please see the below section titled 3. Criteria – What We are Looking For.

The NSW Department of Communities and Justice are seeking submissions that respond to the Expression of Interest. These submissions will be shortlisted, and successful candidates will be invited to participate in the grants process by lodging their detailed application by 2 May 2022. Successful grant recipients will be notified by 13 May 2022.

Successful recipients must agree to attend a series of four separate capability building webinars. All successful applicants will enter into funding agreements which include a 'grant deliverables' reporting component and acquittal requirements.

Grant amounts

Councils are invited to apply for funds between $50,000 and $100,000 (excl. GST) each.

The available funding will be awarded to successful applicants through a competitive assessment process where applications for funding will be assessed against a set of criteria.

Only one application per local NSW council can be submitted for consideration.

Eligibility criteria

Local councils are eligible to apply for this grant program.

Community organisations can be a project partner as part of the application. However, the application must be submitted by a NSW Local Council that will auspice the project, be responsible for the project and enter into the funding agreement if successful.

The auspicing council will be responsible for:
